Real software development in a strong professional environment

As Software Developer in Multi Support you will be a part of a fantastic development team. A team with solid experience, innovation power, and true team spirit.

Your work day will include:

- Participation in development and programming, primarily java and javaScript
- Complicated and demanding assignments with the opportunity to build up specialist knowledge within low level io, Lucene, UI with javaScript, Web Services, embedded jBPMN workflow engine, developer tools (IDEs, build systems)
- Involvement in the entire development process from analysis to implementation, test and documentation of new versions
- Corporation with an ambitious team under agile inspired management
- Quality assurance using methods like continuous integration and automated tests
- An informal environment in which quality, coaching, professional pride, sense of humor and dynamic is fundamental
- An international IT company with a strong market position, subsidiaries in several European countries and not least 70 competent and dedicated colleagues

Programming is your main skill

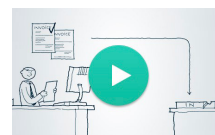

You have the relevant IT training, e.g. as software engineer, information technologist or similar, and programming is your main skill. You have an eye for robust architecture and the happy end-user. You thrive with a balance of your own assignments which you single handedly take to the finish line and larger projects where you are a part of a project team. You are disciplined and work well on your own, but love to be a part of a team. You work methodically, you engage yourself, but not least you deliver outstanding software solutions — on time. You speak, read, and write Danish and English effortlessly.

Herning or Copenhagen?

It is up to you, if you want to work in our office in Herning or Copenhagen. Your conditions are negotiated individually with a pension and care package, flextime and online access at home. Besides that – the sky is the limit for your development. Personally as well professionally.

Best in class by 2020
